J. NICHOLE NOËL

Sheila Walsh CHF1 Radio 98.1 FM has described J. Nichole as being, "very reminiscent of Maya Angelou". She has also been described as, "the female Barry White of poetry", and "a modern day Millie Jackson".

J. Nichole Noel is a, poet writer, songwriter, Novelist, and balladeer. This multi-talented award winner, songstress is a fulltime Mother. She has achieved the unthinkable, and has broken many social and cultural barriers. She has taken her work in places where it hasn't been before. She is a woman of culture, a mother of success. She is truly amazing. ...

J. Nichole Noel draws the children into the natural rhythm and beat of the story, encouraging exuberant participation with a simple, yet powerful and thought-provoking performance. Gleefully interactive, with lots of rhyming and wordplay in both official languages, diversity training is rarely this much fun. With the release of her first poetry CD Verse, J. Nichole Noel has managed to capture the spirit of music and spoken word in the womb before they are separated like twins at birth. Her sultry voice whispers poetical secrets veiled in jazz, soul and reggae rhythms for the mature audience. ... Poetic Soul

"Verse ... The Power of the Spoken Words Volume 1-4," gained the attention of Canada Extra book critic Stephanie Smith. In the December 2007 issue, Stephanie writes, "As always J. Nichole Noël delivers. The series is profound and insightful. Painting pictures with words, she offers sage-like wisdom that forces the reader to think. Overall Verse ... is a stellar literary body of work. A must-have for any poetry collection!"

You are incredible Lady!!!! I just started to cry. Your talent for capturing what I feel and what I want to say over whelms me. You are just great, thanks so much.
Catherine Margarit.

She has a unique way of reaching out to children and instilling important lessons about ethnicity and cultural diversity, "said Pat Wilson, CEO of Newmarket Public Library.

"I strive not to be the best ... rather unique in what I do best." J. Nichole
